

DecisionOne to Acquire Memorex Unit

WSJ

November 4, 1996

DecisionOne Holdings Corp., a computer-services company based in Frazer, Pa., said it agreed to purchase Memorex Telex NV's U.S. service unit for about $30 million. DecisionOne said acquisition of the Memorex service business will strengthen its core businesses, in part by expanding its customer base. Both companies provide communication-network, information-storage, maintenance and help-desk services. DecisionOne said annual revenue of the Memorex unit, based in Irving, Texas, totals about $100 million. The unit has been in bankruptcy-court proceedings. Memorex Telex NV is a computer-services company based in Amsterdam. The transaction is expected to close in two to three weeks. In Nasdaq Stock Market trading Friday, DecisionOne fell 12.5 cents to close at $14.125.

Downloaded from:

<http://online.wsj.com/article/SB847065294543210500.html?mod=googlewsj>

March 2, 2010